What is Redistricting

Definition

Redistricting is the process of adjusting district lines every 10 years after the release of the U.S. Census. The well-known examples are Congressional and State Legislative Districts, but local governments also must do redistricting.

- The Santa Clara Valley Water District also must go through this process, as it did in 2011, to ensure the districts are rebalanced after the decennial census.
- Beyond creating districts of equal population, redistricting also serves to empower local communities and preserve voting rights.

Redistricting Advisory Committee

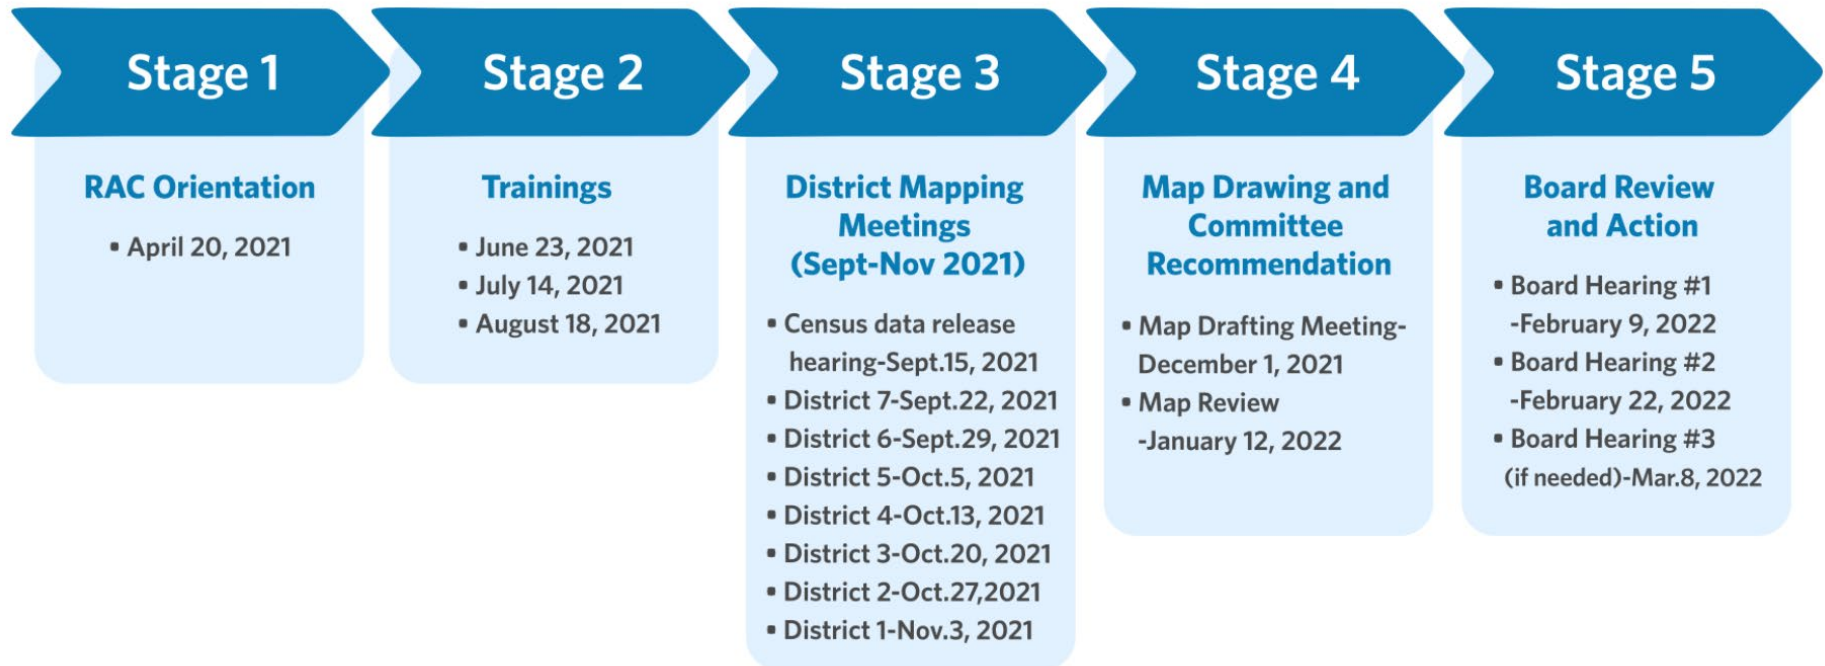

Structure

Valley Water's Board of Directors appointed a seven-member Redistricting Advisory Committee (RAC) to assist them in conducting community outreach.

Goals of the RAC are:

- Conduct Community Outreach Hearings
- Identify communities of interest from public input
- Report to the Board with public input gathered by the RAC

Redistricting Timeline

Traditional Redistricting Principles

Preventing a District from Becoming a Gerrymander

There are a number of criteria that have been used nationally and upheld by courts.

- Relatively equal size - people, not citizens
- Contiguous – districts should not hop/jump
- Maintain “communities of interest”
- Follow city/county/local government lines
- Keep districts compact – appearance/function

Traditional Redistricting Principles

Drawing New Valley Water Districts for Fair Representation

There are a number of criteria that have been used nationally and upheld by courts.

Communities of Interest

Bringing like people together for representation

Communities of interest are the building blocks of districts.

A community of interest includes ethnic and language minorities and other groups.

- Subjective
- Open-ended to be as inclusive as possible

Communities covered by the Voting Rights Act

- Latinos
- Asians
- African Americans

While communities of interest may include race, it cannot be the predominant factor in drawing district boundaries.

Communities of Interest

Bringing like people together for representation

- Historical communities
- Economic interests
- Racial composition
- Ethnic Areas
- Cultural amenities
- Religious facilities
- Immigrant communities
- Languages spoken
- Geographic features
- Neighborhoods
- Economic opportunity zones
- Tourism Areas
- School districts
- Outdoor recreation areas
- Communities defined by natural resource features
- Downtown / Urban
- Rural or Agricultural
- Homeowner or Renters
- Creative arts communities
- Media markets
- Many, many more

What is NOT a Community of Interest

Preventing a Districting from Becoming a Gerrymander

The Fair Maps Act explicitly prohibits these groups from being considered as communities of interest

- Political party affiliation
- Incumbents
- Political candidates

It also is hard, in redistricting to truly consider:

- Groups of similarly minded people who do not share a similar geographic location.
- Communities of Interest that are countywide.

Communities of Interest

Three Critical Questions in Defining YOUR Community

- Does the community have a shared culture, characteristics or bond?
- Is the community geographic in nature? Is the community able to be mapped?
- How would you describe the community's relationship with the jurisdiction, and how is your community affected by the policy decisions made by the elected officials?

Is this a Community of Interest?

A group of homeowners who live in Morgan Hill testifies to the Valley Water's RAC.

Would this be considered a Community of Interest?

Is this a Community of Interest?

A group of homeowners who live in Morgan Hill testifies to the Valley Water's RAC.

Would this be considered a Community of Interest?

YES! This group of residents can easily to be mapped in a distinct area AND they share a common policy interest, which can be addressed through legislation or public services.

Is this a Community of Interest?

A neighborhood association in a historic part of East San Jose organizes and submits testimony on why their neighborhood should not be separated.

Would this be considered a Community of Interest?

Would this be considered a Community of Interest?

YES! Historical communities and neighborhoods are recognized as communities of interest and should be considered when drawing maps.

Is this a Community of Interest?

A group of mushroom and spinach farmers, concentrated in the rural unincorporated areas of the county, focused on ensuring they have enough water for their crops.

Would this be considered a Community of Interest?

YES! This is a group of people in a shared geographic location who have similar needs for public services.

Is this a Community of Interest?

A statewide group for people who are fans of San Francisco Giants testifies to the Valley Water Redistricting Advisory Committee.

Would this be considered a Community of Interest?

Is this a Community of Interest?

A statewide group for people who are fans of San Francisco Giants testifies to the Valley Water Redistricting Advisory Committee.

Would this be considered a Community of Interest?

NO! It is important that a community of interest is distinct enough to draw on a map. This group overlaps throughout the entire state, and it is unlikely that a governing agency has any say over these issues.

Community of Interest Forms

Submitting Your COI Form

- Input can be provided in public hearings or using our Community of Interest Worksheet.
- This can be provided on the website as a part of overall community engagement strategy.
- Some agencies convert these to a webform or survey instrument.

Map Submissions

Online Map Submissions are available through our Online Redistricting software

Two types of expected input:

- Community of Interest Maps (May – End of Process)
- District Plans Based on 2020 Data (Release of Data – Final Adoption)

Communities of Interest

Drawing YOUR Communities of Interest

Valley Water will be using DistrictR as a public mapping tool to allow residents to draw their own Communities of Interest.

You draw the lines.
